Our Liability - to the fullest extent possible at law we (and all of our sister, parent, subsidiary and member companies and organisations) exclude all liability for any loss or damage (including direct, indirect, economic or consequential loss or damage) suffered by you as a result of any visit to or use of this site or of any materials provided on it or downloaded from it or your inability to use this site or any error in the provision of this Site or any computer virus transmitted through this Site whether such loss or damage arises from our negligence or otherwise and even if we are expressly informed of the possibility of such loss or damage.

Links to other sites - sites to which you link through this Site are independent of our Site and we have no control over them. We recommend that you take care in using these Sites and advise that we cannot and do not accept any liability in respect of your use or inability to use them.

Privacy Statement

This Site is made available by CoESS, the Confederation of European Security Services - referred to in this statement as "we" or "us".

The Site was designed and is hosted for us by Splintt.

We are committed to protecting your privacy and this statement summarises what personal details we may collect from you before, during or after you use our Site and what we will do with them. Any changes to our privacy policy will be posted on this page.

When you submit your personal details to us as described below you consent to their use by us in the ways indicated.

1. When you provide personal data to register for one or both modules, or e-mail us, we store these for the purposes of administering your query and/or responding to you.
2. We will, from time to time, go through the list of registered users, to have a report of the number and type of users.
3. We may use your e-mail address to send you information about new features, events or important news on subjects related to Insider Threats and Protection of Public Spaces and Critical Infrastructure.
4. We will not publish your e-mail address on our Site.
5. We do not sell, trade or rent your personal information to others.

If you do not wish your personal details to be used this way, you will not be able to access the deliverables.
